Brutal Act of a Negro Who Beat and Kicked His Little Stepson to Death.

Stokes Brown, of Madison, Chastises a Child by Stamping the Life from Its Body-Two Young Brothers Drowned at Marion.

INDIANA.

Stokes Brown, in a Fit of Anger, Beats His Little Stepson to Death,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Madison, June 15 .- This afternoon Stokes Brown, colored, claiming to be blind, and living on the Michigan road near the head of West street, undertook, in a fit of anger, to punish his little eight-year-old stepson for some trivial offense. It is charged that he beat, and choked, and stamped on the child in such a manner that it died in a half hour after its inhuman father had ceased his work. The mother of the boy reported the matter to some of the neighbors, who were shocked by the occurrence, and at once sent for Sheriff Hoagland, who arrested the brute and placed him in jail. Brown claims that the child was subject to epileptic fits, and that the punishment did not cause his death. A coroner's inquest, however, demonstrated that death was due to the fearful beating received at the hands of the father. Public indignation is great against him.

Moravian Church Anniversary. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COLUMBUS, June 15 .- At Hope, this county, the sixty-first anniversary of the Moravian Church was held yesterday. It was founded by Martin Houser in 1829. He livedt o see the third church of this denomination built and out of debt, and died at the age of ninety. This is the only church of the sect in southern Indiana, and has a membership of over four hundred. It is Protestant Episcopal in faith. Peculiar to this church are its Easter services and its watch meeting. At the former the members meet at the church building and to the cemetery, and with the rising of the sun sing sacred bymus. At the watch meeting they gather in their church building, and as the clock strikes midnight they all rise and join in a sacred song to the Creator of all, and close by invoking His blessing on the congregation for the coming year.

Both Father and Son Arrested.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LEBANON, June 15 .- A son of Benjamin Farley, the murderer of Alexander Stewart at Whitestown, Saturday night, has also been lodged in jail here, charged with being an accomplice in the crime.

Farley and Stewart met Saturday evening in Whitestown, the former demanded rent for the house in which Stewart resided, and which was owned by a widow for whom Farley had acted as agent. Stewart replied that he had been commanded by the widow not to pay any more rent to Farley, whereupon the former knocked Stewart down with a rock. He then leaped apon the prostrate and half insensible man, stabbing him five times with a long-bladed knife. The heart was fairly sliced to pieces. Farley was arrested and brought to Lebanon to avoid the fury of the enraged citizens of Whitestown.

Oxalic Acid for Seltzer, Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

RICHMOND, June 15 .- Barney Holthouse county recorder-elect, had a wonderfully close call from death yesterday. He went into the Grand Hotel bar and called for a glass of seltzer water, with a little lemon in it, and supposedly got it. But, in a short time after drinking it, queer sensations began creeping over him, and he asked the barkeeper if he was sure he knew what he had given him. To his inexpressible horror he found that a seltzer bottle containing oxalic acid, for cleaning up bar-fixtures had been thoughtlessly put in the box containing seltzer-water and he had given Mr. Holthouse this virulent poison. doctor administered an antidote and Mr. Holthouse is doing pretty well to-day with the indications favorable for his speedy re-

Ante-Revolutionary Records.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARTINSVILLE, June 15 .- Clarence Harrold, one of the Daily Reporter force, of this city, has, among other evidences of the past, a copy of the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser, published in Philadelphia, Aug. 20, 1787; a copy of a book published in England prior to 1764, entitled "Saints' Everlasting Rest;" also a copy of Ellicott's "Almanack," published for the States of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Mary-land and Virginia, in the year 1786. The latter seems to have contained a record of the deaths occurring during the year throughout the entire neighborhood. This record was kept by marginal notes, done with quill and ink. The writing is perfectly legible.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

NEW CASTLE, June 15 .- Last Saturday morning James Nipp, the moving spirit of the Farmers' Alliance in this county, came to this city, and, while waiting for a train, got into a political argument with County Auditor-elect Richmond Wisehart. Nipp, who is generally considered a rank Anarchist, asserted that he was a better Union man than Wisehart, who was a soldier, and Wisehart, who is a large, powerful man, slapped him over. To-day Nipp brought suit against Wisehart in the Circuit Court to recover damages in the sum of $500 for injuries sustained in the melee. Half a dozen of the best lawyers at this bar have been retained by the plaintiff.

Memorial Services at Seymour. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SEYMOUR, June 15 .- Hermion Lodge, No. 44, yesterday observed memorial day, and paid a tribute of respect to the deceased members by placing floral offerings upon their graves. The memorial services were conducted at the Castle Hall by the officers of the lodge and remarks made by Bro. O. H. Montgomery, after which the members, headed by the Seymour band, marched to the city and Riverview cemeteries, where beautiful floral offerings, emblematic of the order, were placed on the graves of eleven deceased Knights.

Hot, but They Celebrated.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. YORKTOWN, June 15 .- Although 980 in the shade the I. O. O. F. lodge of this place conducted decoration exercises of very interesting character at the cemetery. Many beautiful flowers were strewn on the graves of departed members of the lodge, with appropriate ceremonies, and music was furnished by the "Big Six" Band, of Honey Creek, Ind., after which the large number of people present repaired to the Odd-fellows' Hall and were addressed by Hon. O. N. Cranor, of Muncie. Yorktown has a large and influential I. O. O. F. lodge, which is accomplishing much for the good of the citizens.

arrived here at midnight last night. He had a ticket for Logansport, and just before the train arrived here the conductor attempted to awaken him, supposing that he was asleep. Not succeeding he left him, and returning later made the discovery that he was dead. He was seen to get a drink of water a short time before, and was apparently in the best of health. His aga was fifty-two years.

Mrs. Saltmarsh's Chicken Freak. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SEYMOUR, June 15 .- Last Saturday a young hen belonging to Mrs. C. A Saltmarsh was taken from the nest with a brood of fifteen chicks. On going to the nest at the time the woman discovered one egg unpipped, but could hear a loud "peep! peep!" inside the shell. She a loud "peep! peep!" inside the shell. She cracked the shell, and at once out hustled a plump, large chick. On examination it was found to be totally blind. One side of the head was well formed, and contained an eye, but the ball was obscured by a blue coating and the lids would not open. On the other side the eye was minus and the side of the head depressed. In addition to its blindness its bill was badly deformed, the lower part turning to the right and the upper to the left in a half circle, which prevented the chick from pipping the prevented the chick from pipping the egg without assistance, and with its blindness makes it utterly unable to eat or drink. Its hearing is good and it keeps with the mother by sound. The chick is still active, but without food or drink it is impossible for it to live long, although quite spry on foot.

Funeral of Rev. James Harris.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, June 15 .- The funeral of Rev. James W. Harris, late superintendent of the Knightstown Home, took place today, his remains having reached this city from New Orleans at a late hour last night. An impressive service was conducted at College-avenue Church by Rev. Dr. Martin, assisted by Rev. S. B. Town and Mrs. L. O. Robinson, the evangelist. A large number of citizens were in attendance, together with members of the G. A. R., S. of V., Knights Templars and the senior class of the Knightstown school.

Knights and Odd-Fellows Joined. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CONNERSVILLE. June 15. - Yesterday morning the Odd-fellows, headed by the Second Regiment Band, marched to the city cemetery, where then decorated the graves of their deceased members. In the afternoon the sights of Pythias, accompanied by the Pythian Sisters, performed the customary ceremony of decorating the graves of Knights. The floral emblems were very beautiful. Rev. Riggs, of Liberty, delivered an eloquent address to the three thousand people at the cemetery.

Trogden Gets a Third Trial.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, June 15 .- Judge Taylor granted Harry Trogden a new trial to-day because of the misuse of a word in his instruction to the jury, which gave him three years for the murder of Hayes Sanders. The Judge said to the jury: "You should consider, also, the statement he makes," etc., when the Supreme Court has decided that the word "may" should be used insteady of "should." This will be the third trial, the jury disagreeing on the first hear-Rejoicing at Electric Illumination. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SALEM, June 15 .- The electric illumination celebrating the first lighting of the city by electricity was a grand success tonight. Hundreds of people came in from the surrounding country, bands paraded the streets, and there was joy everywhere. When, at 8:30 o'clock, the arc and incan-descent lights were all turned on a great shout went up from the people on the pub-lic square. Salem has now one of the finest electric plants in the State.

The Posy Case Compromised. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SHELBYVILLE, June 15 .- This morning, in the Circuit Court, the case against Michael Posy, ex-county treasurer, to recover $1,300 shortage reported by the experts in addition to the $13,000 which had already been made good by Posy and his bondsmen, was called and compromised by a judgment for $250 by mutual agreement. This sum was considered as justly due the county. The commissioners spent over $2,000 on the investigation.

Winter Weds with Summer. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, June 15 .- Last week William Barnhouse, aged eighty-one, was granted a divorce from his aged wife on a plea charging her with abandonment. Yesterday the old man was married to Miss Mary E. Dille, a blushing country lassic aged about twenty-five. The peculiarity of the affair is Barnhouse never saw his young bride, he being blind, and draws $100 per month pension money.

The Pipe Line Will Proceed.

WINAMAC, June 15,-Work has been resumed on the pipe line through which it is proposed to conduct natural gas from the Indiana field to Chicago. Some months ago work was stopped, and it was given out that the project had been abandoned. This is now supposed to have been only a ruse for the purpose of securing rights of way on better terms.

In the County Fifty-Five Years.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PLYMOUTH, June 15 .- Ahijah Howley, one of the oldest citizens of Plymouth, was buried to-day. He came to this county about the time of its organization in 1836, and was about eighty-four years of age. In his early life he was a Whig in politics, and since its organization has been a member of the Republican party.

Two Brothers Drowned.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, June 15 .- Two brothers, Glenn and William Ives, aged nine and thirteen years, were drowned to-day while bathing in the Mississinewa. A dozen boys were with the bathers, but none was strong enough to rescue the unfortunates. The elder of the two victims lost his life trying to save his brother.

Student Randall's Body Recovered. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, June 15 .- The body of young Randall, the Normal student, who was drowned Saturday, while bathing in the river, was found this morning, having risen to the surface at the spot where he sunk from exhaustion. The body was sent to his home near Lebanon, this State.

Chicken-Thief Shot,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, June 15 .- William Irvine, a chicken-thief, was shot by Grant Hendricks, at 2 o'clock this morning, while robbing a hen-roost. He will lose an eye, and possibly his life. At least a dozen shot struck him in the face. He is in jail and in a precarious condition.

Accident to a Brakeman.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SEYMOUR, June 15 .- About 5 o'clock this evening, William Coughlin, a brakeman on the Evansville & Richmond railroad, was caught while making a coupling in the yards at this place, and his hip badly mashed. He was conveyed to his home and

ILLINOIS.

Settled On a Horse's Neck.

CENTRALIA, June 15 .- On Friday afternoon S. T. Frost, a farmer living southeast of this city, met with a most peculiar accident. He drove over to a neighbor's place and hitched his horse to a fence and went over into a field a short distance away. Shortly afterward he noticed his horse acting strangely, and discovered that a swarm of bees had settled on the poor brute's neck. In its frantic efforts to shake them off the bees became angry and began to sting. The animal was freed from the cart and ran at least a fourth of a mile, but a portion of the bees stuck to him and the other portion turned their attention to Mr. Frost and stung him till he became unconscious and was carried home, where several doctors labored with him for several bours. He will recover, but it is thought the horse

Death by Lightning.

ELGIN, June 15 .- During the heavy storm this afternoon a number of men employed on a new building took refuge in a barn, which, soon after their entrance, was struck by lightning. One of the men, Theodore Schultz, was instantly killed, and another, John Bartels, received such injuries that he will probably die.

Brief Mention. The plant of the Pennington air-ship enterprise is to be removed from Mount Carmel to Burlington, Ia.

John Houtstadt, a farmer living near Harvard, was thrown from his wagon Sunday and instantly killed. A new electric-light company has been incorporated at Pana with a capital stock of $50,000. HOTTEST DAY IN JUNE.

The Thermometer Touches 9719 at New York and 107 at Providence, R. L. NEW YORK, June 15 .- The record has been broken and to-day will pass into history as the hottest 15th of June ever recorded. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer in the street level stood at 70° and at noon it had jumped to 85°, but at 2:30 the record was smashed and the mercury indicated 97120. Reports from the leading cities in the State show that hot weather prevailed generally. At Albany 980 was reported, while Hudson, the coolest place heard from, tells of 96°.

Heat advices from many towns in New England show a very sultry condition of things. The reports received from Maine points show a range of from 82° to 90°, the latter at Portland. f eighteen towns in New Hampshire, but one showed below 90°. In Massachusetts 920 is the lowest temperature reported, but the hottest place yet heard from is Providence, R. I., where the top notch of 107° was touched. At Hartford, Conn., the thermometer registered 91° in the shade. Everything is dried up there by the drought. Vegetation all over Connecticut is suffering for want of rain. Pastures and mowing fields, so played out. Flood in Illinois. PEORIA, Ill., June 15 .- For nearly three hours to-day a rain, the severest known for years, raged in Tazewell county. The town of Hilton is flooded, cellars are full, wells are ruined and the gardens are wrecked. Farm river is out of its banks and bridges are washed away. Sections of the Lake Erie & Western and the Peoria & Pekin railroads were washed out, delaying traffic, but the breaks are now repaired. The wagon roads are submerged and travel be-tween this place and Hilton is cut off.

Heavy Rain in the Northwest. St. Paul, June 15 .- A heavy and drenching rain fell here to-day, and reports from all parts of North and South Dakota and Minnesota show that the storm was of wide extent and generally heavy. In most places it was a rain without other accom-paniment, but near Atwater, M:nn., light-ning struck a new school-house, killing Solomon Peterson and slightly injuring a number of others. Two Supstrokes at Pittsburg. PITTSBURG, Pa., June 15.—At the signal office to-day ninety-three was registered. though down on the streets 95 and 96 degrees were common. Many cases of prostration by heat are reported, though but two were fatal, an infant, and a Slav serving woman. Several iron-mills were obliged to suspend this afternoon, owing to the inability of the men to continue work.

The Recent Corbett-Jackson Fight. San Francisco, June 15.—President Ful-da, of the California Athletic Club, has made public a long statement of the club's position in regard to the recent Corbett-Jackson fight. After telling of the efforts of the club to encourage legitimate con-tests, the secretary says the club has been imposed on many times and forced to make rules for its own protection. The men were instructed to fight to a finish, but refused. Each had victory within his grasp, but dared not take it. Therefore he could come to but one conclusion; that both the principals decided not to take any risk and preferred to save their friends' money and their reputation in preference to keeping the agreement with the club.

Care of Bedding. Correspondent Grange Home.

I am not going to talk about different kinds of bedding, but of a device for keep-ing that already in use neat and tidy. First, in regard to the mattress. Dust will settle around the little tufts and is not easily removed. If there are no very apparent evidences of uncleanliness we know that a mattress which has been used year after year, with no special protection, must be far from clean. Make slips for each mattress of stout unbleached sheeting or muslin, which can be drawn on and buttoned like a pillow-case. These can be removed and washed as often as necessary, and the mattress may be used for years and still be clean. If a width of muslin as long as blankets are wide be hemmed all around, folded evenly over the end of the blanket or comfort, and fastened with safety-pins, it can be removed and washed as often as the sheets, and, besides saving much washing of heavy bedding, will add much to the cleanliness of the bed. A friend of mine, who travels much, tells me that she carries one or two of these pieces of muslin with her, and pins one of them over the blankets of her hotel bed at night, thus saving herself from contact with the covers of the bed, which must necessarily have been used by former occupants of the room.

Odds and Ends.

The old sour Wilson strawberry, whicha few years ago was the principal kind shipped to market, is now rapidly becoming extinct. Perhaps no berry exceeded it in keeping and shipping qualities, but the introduction of newer and better varieties has sent it to the rear.

For a pretty stand-cover get a square of ecru momie cloth the size of the table it is intended for, and outline a narrow border all around with scarlet wash silk, finishing the edge with broad lace. Over the lace sew at intervals clusters of narrow ribbons of different colors, in either cut pieces or loops, as preferred.

There are very few woolen goods that are not improved by sponging. Colored Henriettas and many other colored goods spot with water grievously if they are made up before they are sponged. In many shops in Eastern cities they will send the goods purchased over their counters to the "sponger," charging only 10 cents to sponge a "dress pattern." Pongee silks and most India silks keep their color better for being put through the sponger's hands.

Give your checked towels for glassware, and even the heavier crash, a touch of daintiness in the shape of a worked initial letter, and then watch results. At once they are raised in the estimation of the laundress, becoming something more than mere dish-wipers, and are washed and ironed accordingly. It is amusing to note the effect produced by simply decorating these homely articles with a few cross stitches in red working, a little care and attention having saved them from the fate of the ordinary kitchen wiper.

Coarse congress canvass, worked in a set pattern of ornamental diamonds and circles, both figures filled in and worked with long stitches, makes very suitable table-covers and baby-carriage rugs. The designs are done with tapestry wool, and if the canvas has an ecru tint, no grounding is necessary. A pretty way is to connect the figures all over the canvas by lines broken and joined by small circles, alter-nating with oblongs. Sateen of good color for lining gives its hue of red or other color through the coarse meshes of the canvas.

Housekeepers who sometimes attempt a ested in the following, from an exchange: In place of muriatic acid or vitriol, either of which is occasionally used to decompose putty in sashes when the ordinary procedure of "hacking out" with a knife is likely to injure the woodwork, pretroleum oil will probably be used in future. Three coats of this over the old putty will penetrate effectually into the pores of the material, and, by dissolving the hardened linseed oil, the putty soon regains its original plas-ticity. In about three hours from the ap-plication of the first coating of petro-leum it is practicable to cut out the putty with the point of a knife with as much ease as though the sash had only been glazed day or two previously.
